Future Focus: Fixing a Broken Homebuying Experience

An outdated process riddled with problems that lack a technologically-enhanced end-to-end solution

Unpredictable

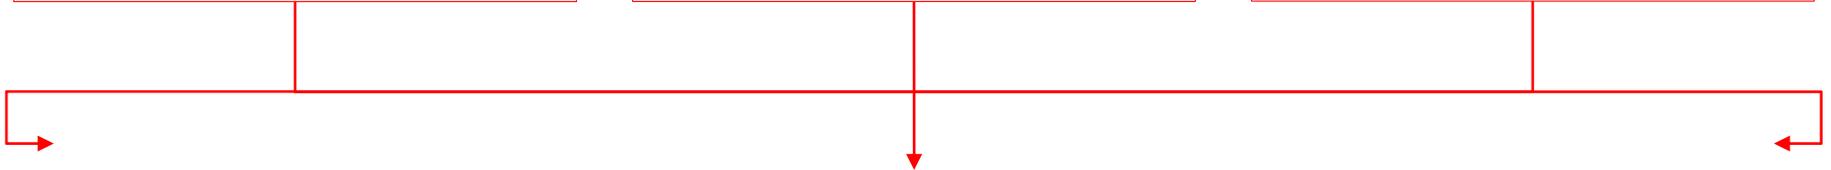

From a buyer's perspective, unforeseen issues seemingly pop up out of nowhere based on lack of awareness of potential outcomes

Chaotic

Requires interactions with multiple parties (lender, insurance, etc.) with communication through multiple channels

Nontransparent

No clear understanding of where you are in a seemingly complex and unintuitive process

Results in a poor customer experience.
Consumers want more control and certainty over the process.

The Real Solution

Building a better product and a better customer experience.

OUR VISION FOR THE FUTURE

Real is looking to build a one-stop shop solution to provide homebuyers with more:

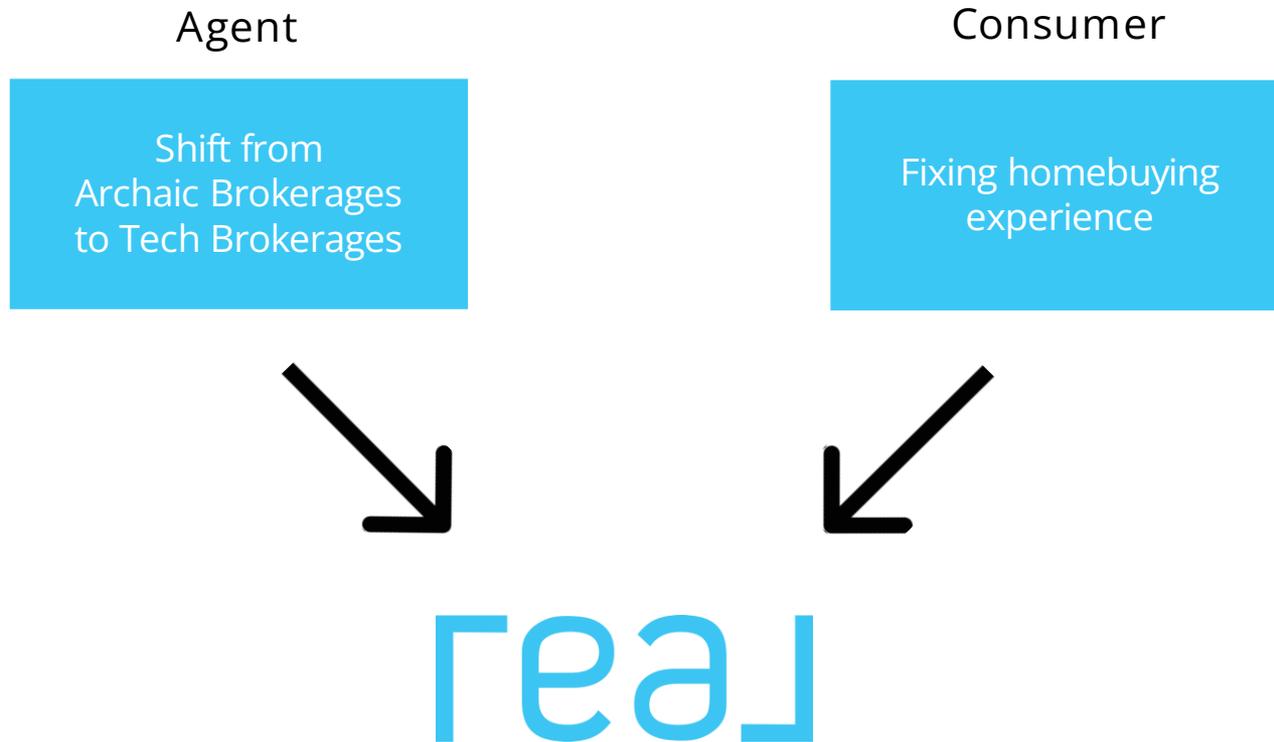

- ✓ Predictability
- ✓ Organization
- ✓ Transparency

We believe that building a simplified and technology-enhanced consumer platform combined with the help of a Real agent is the industry solution of the future

Conclusion: Real Recap

We believe Real benefits as a disruptor during an industry transformation
AND is positioned to benefit from fixing the homebuying process
